Attention All First Year Students

Have you completed your Alcohol Awareness and Sexual Assault Awareness on-line course yet? It takes only 30 minutes to complete. Nearly half of all first year students have done it already. This course is MANDATORY. Please note: the website is secure, so you are safe in entering your UC Net ID and password. We look forward to having you join the 1,795 students who are more aware. In case you did not receive it or in case you have forgotten, here is a letter that was already sent out.

Dear Student Anteater,

On behalf of the faculty, staff and administration here at UC Irvine, I want to welcome you to our campus. We hope that your tenure here will be a very productive, interesting, and fun experience. We want you to take full advantage of all the resources this institution has to offer.

Engaging the campus community and availing yourself of the opportunities offered here will require you to make some important decisions. Among those decisions, like many of your first year student counterparts, you will be confronted with choices about alcohol consumption.

Most students at UC Irvine make healthy choices about alcohol. We want you to know the facts about alcohol as well as sexual assault. It is important that you understand our campus' policies about both of these issues as well as resources that are available to serve you should you experience problems. UC Irvine is mandated to ensure that all students receive this information. Therefore, we are asking you to complete a web based educational program. The course can be found at <http://shearwater.vcsa.uci.edu/saaawit/>

Please complete this course by November 1, 2006. The course should take you less than one hour to complete.

Please note that at the end of the tutorial, you will only receive credit for your completion by registering with your UCI Net ID. You will need to do this at the end of each of the two sections to receive credit.

Best wishes for as you embark upon your undergraduate career.

Sincerely,

Thomas A. Parham, Ph.D.
