

01/16/07

To: All Students

From: Manuel Gomez, Vice Chancellor Student Affairs

Subject: Homecoming 2007

Dear Fellow Anteater:

This year the campus will celebrate its annual Homecoming carnival on Saturday, Feb. 3 at 4 p.m., just before our talented Anteater basketball team takes on Cal State Northridge. As many of you know, ASUCI organizes events throughout the week leading up to the big game to help build campus spirit.

In addition to the events and activities planned by the student government and other student organizations, the UCI Alumni Association, in partnership with UCI schools and other divisions, hosts a free pre-game carnival for the UCI community - complete with food from In-N-Out Burger. This free event features live entertainment, free food, and giveaways. Last year more than 1,600 alumni and friends participated in this award-winning event.

Students play an invaluable role in strengthening our traditions. Alumni come back to campus to relive their days as students, but also to meet current students and learn about the many changes that have taken place since they were last here. Your participation makes a difference. The university and its alumni community is certainly enriched by your involvement in this growing tradition.

On behalf of the UCI Alumni Association, I invite you to join us for UCI's 2007 Homecoming celebration and game. These activities, including game tickets, are free to all current UCI students. You are asked to R.S.V.P. online to help the Alumni Association plan how many Anteaters to expect. You will find a registration link on the front page of the Alumni Association's Web site: www.alumni.uci.edu.

We hope you accept this invitation to join our proud Anteater community on Saturday, Feb. 3.

Go Anteaters!

Manuel Gomez, M.A. '78
Vice Chancellor, Student Affairs

P.S. Food service ends promptly at 6:30 p.m. All games, food, and giveaways are on a first-come, first served basis.